EDITOR'S LETTER

Dear teachers,

Welcome to the new edition of Schuss. In this issue we present the German movie adaptation of the modern classic novel When Hitler Stole Pink Rabbit. Another topic is the phenomenon of explanatory videos on YouTube: According to a new study, more than half of German students already use them. Also, your students can find out what happens in their bodies after a sugar attack, and we celebrate 30 years of Namibian independence with the young people of the former German colony.

We hope you and your students have fun learning with Schuss

Pages 4–5 Lesson Plan 1

Junge Namibier feiern 30 Jahre Freiheit

Objectives

- To learn something about Namibia's history
(3.1: Making Connections)
- To learn about the Hit the Beat project in Namibia
(4.2: Cultural Comparisons)
- To practice reading comprehension (1.2: Interpretive Communication)
- To conduct online research (3.2: Acquiring Information)

Starter

Ask students to discuss Vorbereiten in small groups. As a stimulus write the following word pairs on the board: Frieden/Angst vor Terror oder Umweltverschmutzung, Jobchancen/Arbeitslosigkeit, Armut/Reichtum. Then discuss the topic with the whole class.

Main Activity

- 1 Ask students to read the article with their speaking partners and to look up unknown vocabulary independently as needed. Then students should move on to Verstehen and highlight the relevant passages in the article. Ask students to read out the correct sentences and to translate them into the classroom language. Ask further comprehension questions, for example: Was ist das Ziel von „Hit the Beat“? (Menschen unterschiedlicher Nationen und Kulturen zusammenzuführen) Wann wurde das Projekt gegründet? (im Jahr Neunzehnhundert neunundneunzig) Was machen die Jugendlichen bei „Hit the Beat“? (Sie singen, trommeln und tanzen.)
- 2 Watch the Hit the Beat video (www.mg-plus.net/schuss204) with the class. Then ask: Wie findet ihr das Video? Encourage students to use opinion phrases such as Ich finde/denke/bin der Meinung, dass... and to give reasons for their opinions in subordinate clauses beginning with weil. Continue with the question: Könnt ihr euch vorstellen, bei einem ähnlichen Projekt mitzumachen? Warum (nicht)? Encourage a class debate.
- 3 Discuss with the class: What is the meaning of the expression Kultur der Zusammengehörigkeit as used at the end of the article? Then ask: Was versteht ihr unter Zusammengehörigkeit?
- 4 Now continue with Diskutieren. Ask students to brainstorm and then to describe one project in more detail in writing. Nominate volunteers to read out their texts at the end of the lesson and discuss their ideas with the class.

Extension

For homework, ask students to research five facts or more about German-speaking Namibians online and to create a poster on the subject of Deutsche in Namibia.

Pages 6–7 Lesson Plan 2

Schule auf YouTube

Objectives

- To find out how German students use YouTube videos
(4.2: Cultural Comparisons)
- To recognize the difference between dass and das
(4.1: Language Comparisons)
- To express opinions (1.1: Interpersonal Communication)

Starter

Ask the class to prepare Vorbereiten in small groups. Then ask volunteers to share their answers with the class and let the class vote: Welche drei YouTube-Erkläarkanäle sind am beliebtesten?

Main activity

- 1 Ask students to read the article in pairs and to highlight the subordinate clauses beginning with dass. Then students should test their reading comprehension with Verstehen.
- 2 Ask volunteers to read out the highlighted sentence structures containing dass in the article and elicit an explanation of the grammatical function. (Dass is a conjunction and introduces a subordinate clause) Then ask: Wann schreibt man das nur mit einem „s“? (wenn es ein Artikel oder ein Pronomen ist) Ask students to find examples of das with one „s“ in the text and to decide whether it is an article or pronoun, for example: Das hat viele Vorteile = pronoun, das Video = article.
- 3 Students should now continue with Üben. Ask volunteers to read out one completed sentence each and to decide whether the sentence contains a conjunction (dass) an article (das) or a pronoun (das).
- 4 Play the audio-clip Mit YouTube lernen (www.mg-plus.net/schuss204) several times and ask students to complete the associated listening activity.
- 5 Ask students to read Deutsche TOP YouTube-Kanäle mit Erklärvideos. Ask students to vote on which of the channels they find most interesting. Access the channels online and view a short clip from each with the class. Ask after each clip: Wie gefällt euch der Kanal? Encourage students to use opinion phrases (Ich finde/denke/bin der Meinung, dass ... , kann (nicht) verstehen, dass ...) in their answers.

Extension

For homework, ask students to complete the online

Learning Unit on the topic of Meinungsanzeiger (www.mg-plus.net/delanglab).

Pages 8-9 Lesson Plan 3

Wenn Zucker den Körper attackiert

Objectives

- To learn something about the consequences of excessive sugar consumption (2.2: Products of Culture)
- To extend body vocabulary (1.2: Interpretive Communication)
- To practice reading and listening comprehension (1.3: Presentational Communication)

Starter

Ask students to discuss Vorbereiten in small groups, and then discuss the subject with the whole class. Write süß, salzig, sauer, bitter and würzig on the board and place the students' suggestions in the appropriate category. Debate with the class: Welche Geschmacksrichtung ist am beliebtesten? Warum?

Main Activity

- 1 Ask students to read the introduction to the article and the first paragraph with their speaking partners. Students should then test their reading comprehension with Verstehen. Discuss the answers with the class and challenge volunteers to summarize the content of the paragraph in the classroom language.

- 2 Students should now work through the four paragraphs under the heading 60 Minuten nach der Zuckerattacke in pairs and then complete Üben.

Discuss the answers with the class and ask further comprehension questions, for example: Wie entwickelt sich im Mund Säure, die die Zähne und das Zahnfleisch zerstören kann? (Der Zucker mischt sich mit Bakterien.) Was passiert mit dem Zucker, der an die Leber geht? (Er wird zu Fett.) Warum schwitzt man, wenn man zu viel Zucker gegessen hat? (Die Herzfrequenz steigt.) Etc.

- 3 Play the audio clip Pausensnack: Zuckerbombe (www.mg-plus.net/schuss204) and ask the class to complete the associated listening activity. Hand out the transcript, then ask students to highlight unknown words and elicit their meaning from fellow classmates.

- 4 Divide the class into teams and ask students to create posters on the subject of Zuckerkonsum using the information from the article and the audio-clip. Provide A3 paper and colored pencils. Students should present their posters at the end of the lesson to the class. The best poster wins a prize.

Extension

For homework, ask students to complete Diskutieren in writing.

Grundvokabular: Wenn Zucker den Körper attackiert

This is a list of 30 words and phrases on the topic of Wenn Zucker den Körper attackiert. Photocopy the table and ask students to translate the terms.

Pages 10-11 Lesson Plan 4

Als Hitler das rosa Kaninchen stahl

Objectives

- To learn something about the Berlin born children's author Judith Kerr (2.2: Products of Culture)
- To practice reading comprehension (1.2: Interpretive Communication)
- To devise a role-play in a group (1.3: Presentational Communication)

Starter

Ask students to discuss the question in Vorbereiten with their speaking partners. Scaffold the activity by writing verb forms in the subjunctive on the board, such as ich wäre, ich müsste, ich würde, ich hätte, ich könnte. Challenge students to use several of the subjunctive verb forms in their answers.

Main Activity

- 1 Ask students to read the introduction to the article and Die Story independently with their speaking partners. Discuss Die Story with the class and ask volunteers to summarize the content of the paragraph in the classroom language.
- 2 Challenge students to point out the parallels between Anna's story and Judith Kerr's biography in the timeline.
- 3 Continue with Lesetext. Ask students to read out one sentence at a time. Then ask comprehension questions, such as Was ist ein Problem für Max aber nicht für Anna? Wie hat Max das Problem gelöst? Was möchte Max gern richtig können?
- 4 Ask students to highlight the verbs in the imperfect tense in Lesetext and to find the corresponding infinitives. Students should arrange the verbs in two categories: regular verbs (fragte/fragen, sagte/sagen, betrachtete/betrachten, erhellt/erhellen) and irregular verbs (trug/tragen, hatte/haben, war/sein). Extension for higher performing students: Challenge students to transcribe the verb forms in Die Story from the present tense into the imperfect (war, musste, standen, war, begann, konnte, blieb, zog, war, beschrieb, hatten).

- 5 Ask students to talk about Diskutieren in small groups. Students should then use the points made in their discussions to devise short role-plays dealing with the variety of problems migrants might encounter. Discuss the role-plays at the end of the lesson with the class.

Extension

For homework, ask students to rewrite Judith Kerr's timeline in complete sentences in the imperfect tense; for example: 1923 wurde sie in Berlin geboren, 1933 floh sie mit ihren Eltern ... etc.

Culture box

Holocaust-Gedenktag

The Kerr family were able to flee from the Nazis, but millions became victims of National Socialism.

Since 2005, the 27th of January has been the International Holocaust Remembrance Day. In Germany and many countries in and outside of Europe, this day has become an important date for annual commemorative ceremonies and is a reminder of the liberation of the concentration and extermination camp Auschwitz in 1945. Events such as guided tours and exhibitions commemorate the six million murdered Jews, as well as the Sinti and Roma, the forced laborers, the prisoners of war, the victims of state euthanasia, homosexuals, and all those who resisted terror for religious, political or humanitarian reasons, and as a result fell victim to totalitarian state power.
